

Experts Weigh in: Five Signs Your Toddler Needs to Socialize More

Lee Scott, education specialist and a member of The Goddard School's Educational Advisory Board, shares how to recognize five common signs toddlers need more socialization and suggestions for how to help your child adapt to social situations.

A Short List of Summertime Safety Essentials

Searching for a summer camp program? A high-quality summer camp often allows your children opportunities to spend a lot of time outside soaking up the sun and exploring their world. Keep your little explorers safe outdoors with this list of safety essentials.

Four Steps to Creating a Beautiful Children's Library in Your Home

Want to nurture your child's love of reading? Follow these four easy steps to create a fantastic library within your home.

Three Cute Craft Ideas for Father's Day

Check out these three fun and simple Father's Day crafts that all dads will be happy to receive!

- Pencil holder
Gather a clean can or jar and some construction paper. Assist your child in cutting the construction paper to fit around the can and then help him glue the paper to the can. After the glue has dried, ask your child to draw pictures or place stickers on the can, encouraging his creativity. This is a great gift for Dad's desk at work or at home.
- Stick photo frame
For this activity, you will need wooden craft sticks and a lively photo of your little one with Dad. Glue the sticks in the shape of a square (this step should be assisted by an adult), leaving a large enough space for the photo in the center. Once the glue has dried, encourage your child to decorate the frame with stickers or a message such as "I love you, Dad!" Then tape the photo face-down to the back side of the frame and it is complete!
- Create a book about Dad
On blank sheets of paper, write a statement about Dad on each page and ask your child to fill in the blanks. Depending on age, you can help

Yoga for Kids

Yoga is a physical, yet calming activity that teaches children how to connect with their bodies, still their minds and learn that not all athletic activity requires competition.

your child with the writing portion of this step. Encourage your child to draw a picture that goes with the sentence on each page.

The Goddard Schools are operated by independent franchisees under a license agreement with Goddard Systems, Inc. Programs and ages may vary. © Goddard Systems, Inc. 2019